Increasing Details Of Pacific Battle Show Greater Losses

Jap Resistance On Leyte Island Is Disintegrating

Advance Of U. S. Troops On Leyte And Samar Continues Steadily

JAPANESE LOSE 39 MORE PLANES

By GEORGE LAIT
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
GEN. MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Philippines, Oct. 27.—With Japanese naval losses reported still growing, organized resistance against American infantrymen on Leyte and Samar islands appeared today to be rapidly disintegrating.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced that ground troops of the Tenth and Twenty-fourth Corps were expanding their hold on Leyte. Despite vigorous enemy air attacks on beachhead areas.

Establish Junction

He said that elements of the two corps had established a junction on the coast of Leyte Island south of Panacan and are holding firm control of a 40-mile eastern coastal sector, running from the extreme northern end of San Juanico strait to Dulag on the east-central coast. At the same time, battlemates troops of the First Cavalry Division expanded their beachhead on Samar across San Juanico straits from Leyte, hurling back a Japanese counter attack, according to MacArthur's latest communique.

As the hard slugging doughboys continued to punch their way forward in all sectors, numerous air battles raged throughout the Tacloban and Dulag sectors, with heavy casualties inflicted against Jap fighter planes.

Battle In Pacific Will Probably Be Rated As Greatest

By MAJOR PAUL C. RABORG
(Written Especially For International News Service)
NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The ground forces of Gen. Douglas MacArthur on the Philippine Island of Leyte acknowledged complete appreciation and deep homage to the United States Navy and its carrier-based air force.

The United States naval units, both surface and air, backed up Gen. MacArthur's land expeditionary force and probably saved it from annihilation by perfectly coordinated—"combined operations". It has been assumed that the Japanese Navy has generally been based in at least two different main locations at the opposite extremities of its original and lately stolen empire. The largest segment would naturally be located in home island waters. The second in size might be assumed to be based at Singapore for protection of the Malay peninsula and the Dutch East Indies, as well as to meet the (Continued on Page Two)

Churchill Says Armies Of Allies Are On Last Lap

By CHARLES A. SMITH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
LONDON, Oct. 27.—Prime Minister Winston Churchill declared his belief today that Allied armies in Europe are on the last lap of the offensive to crush Germany but warned that fighting of increased intensity still must be expected.

In an address to the House of Commons, Churchill said that failure of the United Nations to exert their fullest efforts now might lengthen the duration of the war.

Enemy Has Two Hopes
The Nazi enemy has only two hopes, Churchill explained, first, to lengthen the struggle and wear down Allied resolution, and second, that a division may arise between the three great powers—Britain, the United States and Russia.

Churchill went before the House primarily to discuss the results of his recent conference at Moscow with Premier Joseph Stalin. The results achieved at Moscow, he said, were highly satisfactory but a final result cannot be attained until the heads of the three big powers meet again. Churchill said he trusted that meeting would occur before the year is out.

Navy Secretary Estimates Two-Thirds Of Jap Battleships Sunk Or Damaged

U. S. SUFFERED SOME LOSSES ALSO

By ARTHUR F. HERMANN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Foreboding possibility of early blows against the Japanese home islands, against the Japanese Navy was in virtually unopposed command of far Pacific waters today—Navy Day, 1944—as a result of the great naval victory in the Philippines.

Secretary of the Navy James V. Forrestal estimated that two-thirds of Japan's battleships were sunk or damaged in the terrific three-phase battle and indicated that the defeat dealt the once-proud Japanese fleet will reach an even more staggering proportion than announced to date.

Pivotal Action of War
Describing the smashing victory as "one of the pivotal actions" of the war, Forrestal said "We have at least temporarily reduced the Japanese navy to a much more unhappy condition than confronted us after Pearl Harbor."

But, unlike the Japanese, he said the navy will do "everything within its power to exploit the advantage which we have gained." He promised new blows would be struck against the enemy in the near future, asserting that "from now on the Japs at sea and in the air and on land are going to be hit plenty and often."

Forrestal said the fleets will pursue the damaged Japanese ships to the limit of their ability and as he made his remarks in a radio address carrier-based planes were chasing and inflicting additional (Continued on Page Two)

Fierce Hand-To-Hand Fighting Is Reported By Moscow In East Prussia

REDS ADVANCE IN CZECHOSLOVAKIA

By NATALIA RENE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
MOSCOW, Oct. 27.—Fierce hand-to-hand fighting marked new Russian advances into East Prussia today as Soviet troops seized four German strongholds and pressed determinedly against Gumbinnen along the Kaunas-Koenigsburg railway.

While other Red forces in Czechoslovakia bowled over the Nazi railway station at Mukachevo, General Ivan Chernyakovskiy's White Russians repelled Nazi counter-attacks and annihilated 2,800 enemy troops.

With Soviet artillery firing upon the German counter-thrusts throughout the day, 39 enemy tanks and 20 armored vehicles were destroyed.

Seek To Save Gumbinnen

The Germans expended both men and armor in a large-scale effort to save the vital communications fortress at Gumbinnen, according to Moscow announcements. Gumbinnen is the third largest city in East Prussia and guards the approaches to Interburg, immediate objective of the Russian drive.

The Russians, in Czechoslovakia, opened the roads to the central portion of the country.

The chief executive tonight will make the third major nationwide speech of his reelection campaign in historic Philadelphia, with an eye on the 35 electoral votes that make Pennsylvania a key state in determining the outcome of the November 7 national election.

QUOTAS SET FOR SIXTH WAR LOAN

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 27.—(INS)—The quotas for the Sixth War Loan campaign, which opens November 20, for the 19 counties of the Fort Pitt area, including Allegheny, was announced today by Robert H. McClintic, state vice chairman of the War Finance Committee.

McClintic said the quotas were: "E" bonds only, $61,280,000; all types of individual purchase bonds, including "E"s, $66,790,000; corporation, $178,628,000, and of all types $291,683,000.

He pointed out that due to the fact that the present loan's national quota was $14,000,000 compared to $16,000,000 in the Fifth War loan, the quotas throughout the area were generally lower than in the last drive.

Allied Forces Score Advance In W. Holland

British And Canadian Offensive Against Nazis Grows In Fury

GERMAN DEFENSES BEING PENETRATED

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, France, Oct. 27.—The combined British and Canadian offensive to drive the Germans out of western Holland mounted in fury today, with the Allied forces penetrating deeply into the German defenses and scoring a general advance along the entire front from Hertogenbosch to the sea.

British assault forces simultaneously carried out an amphibious landing on South Beveland Island in the Scheldt river estuary to speed the crumbling of the German hold in western Holland, a Reuter correspondent who accompanied the assault troops reported.

The invasion fleet, crammed with troops, light artillery, mortars and Bren carriers, caught the Germans completely by surprise. (The British troops drove one mile inland in the first four hours of the assault. Bitter fighting was said to be continuing.)

A German report of a similar landing on adjacent Walcheren island was not confirmed.

Canada Advances
Units of the Canadian army operating west of the British Second army advanced 5,000 yards along the Beveland peninsula and now are only seven and one-half miles from the neck of the peninsula.

Eastward, forces striking north of Antwerp gained control of Niepen, a few miles north of Essen. Minderhout, 19 miles south of Breda, was captured and advanced elements progressed farther north.

(A Reuter correspondent at the front reported that the Germans had opened a four-pronged counter-attack against the east flank of the British-held corridor through Holland, apparently on the Maas (Meuse) river front between Eindhoven and Arnhem.)

Governor Dewey Preparing His Final Speeches

By LEO W. O'BRIEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
ALBANY, Oct. 27.—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey today worked on a series of hard-hitting speeches which he will deliver in New York, New England and possibly New Jersey during the concluding days of his campaign for the presidency.

The Republican presidential nominee, convinced that the race for the White House is extremely close, intends to concentrate from now until November 7 on New York's 47 electoral votes, plus those represented by New Jersey and the New England states.

Governor Dewey, in addition to fashioning some further shots at his opponent, was to make a decision today on whether he should call the legislature into special session to extend the election day voting hours in New York City to take care of the heavy registration.

Governor Dewey will speak Saturday in Syracuse, delivering the farm speech which was sidetracked at Minneapolis this week to permit a reply to President Roosevelt's foreign policy talk.

New Allied Landings On Dutch Islands In Antwerp Battle

By J. C. OESTREICHER
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
A new chapter in what Prime Minister Winston Churchill described as the "last lap" of the war against Nazi Germany was being written on the muddy beaches of western Holland today.

While fresh details were awaited of the continuing punishment being dealt out to remnants of the crippled Japanese navy in the waters surrounding the Philippine Islands, international attention flashed back to the European theatre, where British and Canadian troops carried out new amphibious landings on the Dutch island of South Beveland and presumably on nearby Walcheren as well.

The purpose of these new invasions clearly was to validate the great port of Antwerp as a supply base and springboard for the long and carefully planned Allied flanking sweep north of the Siegfried line into Nazi Germany.

Initial Successes
Fragmentary dispatches from correspondents accompanying the invasion troops indicated initial successes.

Within a few hours after the assaults were launched, presumably (Continued on Page Six)

First Reports In Fund Drive Made At Noon

First Reports Of Chairmen Show $16,899.25—Next Reports To Come On Tuesday

With the 1944 United War Fund and Community Chest drive going into its third day, division chairmen at noon today reported a total of $16,899.25 represented by signed pledge cards already turned in.

Reports were given at a luncheon meeting in The Castleton hotel, at which W. E. Langan, vice chairman, presided. Invocation was given by Rev. Fr. V. V. Stancelski.

Approximately fifty chairmen and workers were present to hear the reports, and a brief talk by Fred L. Rentz, congratulating the "old war horses" of numerous Community Chest drives. Mr. Rentz promised the full support of "all the newspapers in New Castle" to the campaign.

This year's preliminary reports, unlike last year's, did not include promises. Only signed pledge cards were accepted, and yet the total pledged so far exceeds last year's preliminary report of $16,271. Mr. Langan will intensify the efforts of the workers and chairmen in driving toward the goal of $125,000.

More complete reports will be turned in at the next meeting on Tuesday evening at 5 o'clock in The Castle hotel, said Mr. Langan. Reports of division teams today will be announced in Saturday's issue of The News.

Many Jap Bases Struck By Bombers

PEARL HARBOR, Oct. 27.—(INS)—A Pacific fleet headquarters communique disclosing previously unreported aerial smashes against a wide range of Japanese island bases indicated today that further neutralization raids are in store for the enemy while major sea-air action is centered in the Philippines.

The communique reported concentrated raids against Jap bases in the far northern Kuriles, in the western Carolines, in the Palau, Marianas, Volcano and Marshall Islands.

Enormity Of Japan's Naval Defeat Grows

Later Reports Indicate Staggering Losses Sustained By Jap Fleet

AT LEAST 21 BIG WARSHIPS BLASTED

By RICHARD HALLER
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
PEARL HARBOR, Oct. 27.—The enormity of Japan's naval defeat in the disastrous triple-pronged bid of the Imperial Japanese fleet to smash the American invasion of the Philippines undoubtedly will be worse than has already been reported.

Just how much worse no one could say today as reports continue to trickle in from triumphant United States battle fleets.

At Least 21 Ships Blasted
With remnants of the battered and badly beaten enemy navy in full retreat, a compilation of Jap losses taken from official communications showed that 21 first line enemy warships, including 21 battleships, cruisers and carriers and six destroyers were sunk or damaged in Philippine waters and southeast of Formosa.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander-in-chief of Pacific Ocean area forces, so far has announced the sinking of six major enemy vessels, the probable destruction of three, and the damaging of nine more in several fierce sea and air actions.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, in command of American liberation forces in the Philippines, disclosed Thursday that battleships and carriers of Adm. Thomas Kinkaid's Seventh Fleet had sunk or damaged eight Japanese warships which were in addition to those mentioned by Admiral Nimitz.

On Friday, MacArthur announced damage was inflicted to still another enemy cruiser in the Mindanao Sea by liberator bombers of the Far Eastern air force.

China-Based U. S. Planes Smash At Battered Jap Ships

CHUNGKING, Oct. 27.—(INS)—A successful attack by China-based American Liberator bombers on remnants of a battered Japanese task force fleeing from the battle of the Philippines, involving the probable sinking of 8,800 more tons of Jap shipping and damaging of 12,000 additional tons, was reported officially today.

Headquarters of Gen. Joseph Stilwell said that Liberators of the Fourteenth Air Force struck yesterday at the remnants of the Jap task forces fleeing in the South China Sea eastward of the Luichow peninsula.

Two direct hits were scored on a Nipponese transport and another direct hit left a freighter listing and burning.

A tanker also was left in a smoking condition.

In all, headquarters said, about 8,800 tons of enemy shipping probably was sunk and 12,000 tons damaged.

Large Supplies Of Food Being Sent To Italy

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—(INS)—The Office of War Information disclosed today, in reporting substantial progress in Italian rehabilitation, that the United States, Great Britain and other sources will have shipped two million 300 thousand tons of civilian food supplies to Italy by January 1, 1945.

The 9,000-word summary of reconstruction and relief measures by the Allied Control Commission presented a progress report on Italian administrative reorganization, transportation, public utilities, food, industries, finance, price control, agriculture and labor.

Still Big Problem
Outlining the food supply situation, the report said:

"The problem is still far from solved, but in the southern portion of liberated Italy food conditions in rural districts are now relatively easy."

"The cities, always major points of crisis, have an improved supply. Conditions remain only fair in such cities as Florence, close behind the battle lines, and Rome, with its population of a million and a half. However, there also, the situation has improved."

Allied officials estimate that, as the battle line moves into the Po valley in northern Italy, food imports—chiefly wheat and flour—for the next year will exceed the 700,000 tons shipped from July, 1943 to July, 1944.

The report said the estimates are calculated to allow 200 to 300 grams of bread per day for 75 per cent of the population south of the Pisa-Rimini line, and some 80 per cent to the north. The calculation includes a wheat harvest in liberated Italy this year of 2,034,000 metric tons which will be rigidly rationed.

threat of the British Navy which has now without doubt been assembled in the Bay of Bengal.

Crushing Jap Defeat

The uppermost question today is—how much offensive striking strength is left to the Japanese Navy? Concensus is that from now on large scale Japanese naval offensive action is impossible. That conclusion should be regarded cautiously. There is absolutely no question but that the war fleets of the Empire of the Rising Sun have received a deadly and crushing defeat. But as yet probably no one knows the exact strength of the Japanese Navy. It must be remembered that prior to Pearl Harbor, Nippon had conducted not less than a five-year secret naval building program.

Many authorities have assumed in regard to the recent fighting that the Japanese naval units which attacked through the straits to the south of Leyte, and actually into the gulf of the same name, came from Singapore or points to the south. It is inconceivable to your author that the Japanese would dare remove their naval coverage against the British fleet in Bengal Bay and from the protection of Sumatra and the Dutch East Indies. It would seem that British naval air reconnaissance would immediately catch such a Japanese move and that British Navy would then strike immediately.

One Of Greatest
It will be several days before complete returns of this naval battle have reached this country. Then the estimate of the present situation may be much more intelligently made.

But one fact remains. If the Japanese armada had reached a point within range of General MacArthur's land forces those land forces might have been exterminated. This latest sea battle will probably go down in history as one of the greatest ever fought. It will undoubtedly rank with Jutland and today the army stands with hats off to the Navy.

ENORMITY OF JAPAN'S NAVAL DEFEAT GROWS

announcements showed that in three phases of the far flung naval engagements the Imperial Japanese navy suffered the following staggering losses:

Sunk: One battleships, four cruisers, two carriers and one destroyer. Probably sunk: Two battleships. Believed sunk: One battleship and one carrier.

Bay damaged: Six battleships, four cruisers and five destroyers.

In addition an unspecified number of destroyers were sunk or damaged.

(Secretary of the Navy James Forrestal, commenting on the great sea triumph in Washington, estimated that two-thirds of Japan's battleships were sunk or damaged in the terrific battle.)

American losses announced to date include the light carrier U. S. S. Princeton, sunk several escort carriers and destroyers damaged and several PT boats lost.

From the welter of reports so far received, two things are clear: (1) That the enemy naval force intercepted moving southward between Formosa and Luzon, capital island of the Philippines, was the Japanese main carrier force and, (2) That preliminary reviews of this battle produced no evidence that any enemy carrier in the force escaped being sunk or damaged.

Unofficial though informative circles emphasized the belief that virtually every vessel in the three Japanese naval forces, possibly including some of the enemy's largest, newest and fastest battleships, was damaged heavily if not sunk.

damage on the fleet enemy which already has had at least 30 of its front line vessels sunk or damaged in the Philippine battle.

U. S. Has Losses
The navy secretary sounded a cautionary note, however, declaring that "we have not escaped from these actions scot-free." He said that "we, too, have lost ships and have had others damaged."

A complete report of Japanese ship losses in the big battle of the Philippines cannot be made as yet but a compilation from official reports to date shows that at least 30 and possibly more than 40 enemy combat ships were sunk, probably sunk or damaged.

The complete count will raise to more than 775 the number of Japanese combat units sent to the bottom or damaged since the outbreak of war. In contrast, United States naval losses since Pearl Harbor total 195 combat vessels of all types sunk, presumed lost, or destroyed to prevent enemy capture. The navy does not announce damages to American war vessels.

naval airmen from Vice Admiral Thomas Kinkaid's carrier planes, two by anti-aircraft fire and fourteen by fighter patrol planes.

The ground troops, ignoring small pockets of Japs hidden in caves above them, slashed their way toward the enemy's mountain positions westwards of Palo without let-up, inflicting heavy casualties on the enemy but suffering negligible losses themselves.

Towns Liberated

In their drive, the infantrymen have liberated the towns of Tabon-Tabon, three and one-half miles west of Catmon Hill, and Bori, on the Burauen-Dagami road in the southern sector of the island.

Spokenmen at MacArthur's headquarters announced the Samar Island invasion gave American forces complete domination of San Juanico Strait, a strategic route to the inland Philippine seas.

The swift, violent moves of MacArthur's men are leaving the enemy befuddled and desperate, causing them, at times, to make their suicidal "banzal" charges.

Only Sniper Opposition

About the only opposition confronting the Yanks in their inland drive is rearguard and sniper action, with the Jap snipers operating mostly at dawn. They have been creeping up to Yank frontlines during the night and waiting until daylight to fire upon the assault troops.

Meanwhile, the captured airfields at Tacloban and Dulag were rapidly being repaired for use by American planes, and it was expected that our heavy bombers and fighters would be operating from them within a short time.

But in the meantime, Lt. General George C. Kenner's air force kept up its constant support of the invasion, striking far and wide over the southern Philippines to hit Japanese shipping, defense installations, supply dumps and troops concentrations.

ALLIED FORCES SCORE ADVANCE IN W. HOLLAND

Eisenhower said that the Germans were forced to withdraw all along the line in western Holland from Hertogenbosch to Tilburg.

While most of Hertogenbosch was in allied hands, British forces operating to the southwest against Tilburg, another of the three key German positions in western Holland, smashed into the eastern and southern outskirts of Tilburg.

"The enemy defenses between Hertogenbosch and Tilburg have been deeply penetrated," a communique said.

One column driving northward west of Breda struck towthin 4,000 yards of Roosendaal, it was announced.

Fresh gains were scored by the Canadians in the neck of the Beveland peninsula.

In the Schelde estuary pocket the Canadians battled their way into Oostburg.

Groede, southwest of the port of Breskens, was by-passed on both the north and south.

Western Front Activity

Activity on the western front from Aachen to the Vosges mountain region of France increased after a lull of several days.

American First army forces north of Aachen scored minor gains against stubborn German resistance. Patrol activity was reported south of Munsbach, below Aachen, inside the Reich.

There was sporadic German artillery fire in the Moselle valley on the American Third army front in France.

Northeast of Lunenburg the Germans were cleared from the forest of Mancourt and from high ground north of the forest.

Several Nazi counter-attacks in the Lunenburg sector were repulsed. Gains were scored by the American Seventh army northeast of Epinal against strong German resistance.

Slight progress was made in the Vosges sector where other counter-attacks were repulsed.

Signs of German disorganization were reported from the battlefield in the western Netherlands.

An estimated 60,000 Germans drawing back their battle line in the face of the allied onslaught were threatened by possible encirclement.

Washington Calling

By MARQUIS CHILDS

Oklahoma Strong Against New Deal

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 27.—They take their politics straight here in Oklahoma. Feeling is stronger in this state than anywhere else in the country, I would guess.

The Republicans believe they have the best chance to carry normally Democratic Oklahoma since 1928, when enough Democrats voted against Al Smith to swing the tide for Herbert Hoover. They're counting again on an anti vote.

The stress is on burdensome wartime restrictions: on the volume of paper work that farmers and business men alike must do in order to comply with controls exercised from Washington. Campaign oratory is directed at the "bureaucratic New Deal."

Tired Of Administration

The hope is that enough disgruntled citizens will decide in the privacy of the voting booth that they want no more of the present administration. Republican leaders look for a big majority from the prosperous farmers in the northeastern counties, who, it is believed, share the disaffection of farmers in neighboring Kansas and the Middle West generally.

Free enterprise seems more than a campaign slogan in Oklahoma. Here it's both free and flourishing. During the past year, they've been developing a few miles from the city what promises to be Oklahoma's biggest oil field.

At least 550 men are at work drilling new wells. Land owners are getting rich overnight. A new forest of derricks is taking shape against the horizon.

Oklahoma oil men play politics with the same zeal that they hunt for pay dirt under Oklahoma's red clay. The boldest player—and plunger—of them all is Senator Ed Moore of Tulsa, wealthy independent oil operator who is determined to get FDR's scalp if it takes all he's got.

Shift Begins

Four years ago, Ed Moore was named a delegate to the Democratic national convention at Chicago. But he went first to the Republican convention at Philadelphia, where he whipped it up for Wendell Willkie. This was the beginning of his shift from the donkey to the elephant.

For Ed Moore, the Willkie campaign was no more than a trial heat. Like so many other Republicans, he feels Willkie threw away his chances by trying to out-nominate the New Deal candidate. Two years ago, to the surprise of nearly everyone, including himself, Moore defeated the favorite of the rural Baptists and the Prohibitionists, Democratic Senator Josh Lee, in the Senate race.

Ever since then he has been one of the mainstays of Republican politics. You hear all sorts of stories about the money he's spending in his campaign to defeat Roosevelt. It was disclosed the other day in Washington that he gave $25,000 to Texas Senator Pappy O'Daniel in support of Pappy's violently anti-New Deal paper, which circulates in the Southwest.

Hopes For New Deal Death

In Ed Moore's books, that would probably go down as pin money. This is a crusade to him. His eyes have a dark intensity. His face is lean and cadaverous. His forehead falls down over one of those fanatics of the French revolution. You would cast him for Robespierre and he'd look the part. This man is building the guillotine on which he hopes to see the New Deal done to death. Oh, what a beautiful morning it will be in Oklahoma for Ed Moore if, on November 8, the headlines announce the defeat of FDR.

Democrats here are not downcast. They know that Roosevelt's majority of approximately 125,000, four years ago, will be cut down. But they're working hard to get out the traditionally Democratic vote in the southern tier of counties known as Little Dixie.

The Roosevelt political assault on two conspicuous political assets in Oklahoma. One is Governor Robert Kerr, also a wealthy independent oil man, who has won considerable favor. Congressman Mike Monroney, running for re-election in the district that includes Oklahoma City, has considerable personal popularity, and is expected to pull through, even though Roosevelt should lose the state by a small margin.

You're made to realize here the difficulties Dewey will face from his own followers if he is elected. Oil men want a higher price for their oil. Farmers want higher prices for what they sell. They'll be sitting on the White House steps if Dewey takes office, and he'll need all the stermness he can muster to keep from being pushed into the midst of a runaway postwar boom.

Sun sets tonight 6:01. Sun rises tomorrow 7:28.

Some very important war work is being done by a lot of people who are not getting paid for it.

Some alleged expert declares that a man should see a woman in a bathing suit before he marries her. That might not be so good.

HIGH PRICED CAT

A man appeared in a newspaper office to place an ad offering one hundred dollars for the return of his wife's pet cat.

"That's an awful high price for a cat," the clerk suggested.

"Not for this one," said the man. "I drowned it."

Give all you can to the War Fund. It will help win the war and help save the lives of our loved ones.

A married woman is one who believes there are two sides to every question—her husband's and the right side.

Magistrate: The young woman says that your continued staring at her annoyed her excessively.

Prisoner: I never intentionally annoyed a woman in my life, your honor.

Magistrate: Then why did you stare at her so persistently.

Prisoner: Because she is so pretty. I couldn't help it.

Young Woman: Let him go, judge.

We have heard a lot of these mother-in-law jokes. Some of them have seemed appropriate and a few even funny. But, after all, when you get pinned right down to it, what would we do for wives without mother-in-law?

The bigger a man's head gets the easier it is to fill his shoes.

Natural instincts do not tell a man what ought to be done nearly as often as his friends do.

"No," replied the farmer, "did you fall off?"

A weekly magazine is like the weather. If it is above average one week, it is apt to be pretty awful the next.

Still, if the war should continue into the winter, the tormented Germans might revolt and save us a lot of trouble.

A story is told about a local candidate several years ago who was making a speech in the back country. "Now, ladies and gentlemen," he screamed, "I want to tax your memory."

"Great grief!" groaned a man in the audience, "has it come to that?"

Campaign speeches may get people interested enough to vote, but they aren't likely to change any votes.

Some years ago, Pete was arrested and held for investigation, but later was set free with a clean record. At the police station two officers had the following conversation regarding Pete.

"Did you give the prisoner the third degree?"

"Yes, we browbeat him, badgered him and asked him every question we could think of."

"And what did he do?"

"He merely dozed off and said, 'Yes, dear, you are perfectly right.'"

So live that when you wish to save the country from tyranny your own record won't disqualify you as a savior.

HOME WEDDING

"I would like so much to have some information on the proper accessories to wear at a home wedding. My dress will be street-length and I want to know if it is essential to have ushers at a home wedding? My invitations will, of course, be informal notes. How should they be addressed to friends of my fiancé whom I have not met? In a double ring ceremony, when should the groom's ring be placed on his finger. And please inform me as to other details of this type of ceremony." Kathryn.

Answer: A matching velvet capot would be most attractive. If you wear a corsage, you may, instead, prefer to wear at a home wedding. This would constitute a too great profusion of flowers.

Write informal notes to your friends. Below is a sample of a letter which you might write to friends of your fiancé whom you have not met.

"Dear Mrs. Smith:

"Bob and I are to be married on Wednesday, the first of November at four o'clock at my home, 28 Prospect avenue.

"We both hope very much that you and Mr. Smith can come for both the ceremony and the reception immediately following."

Address your invitations to the wife but be sure to include her husband, as above.

Ushers are not essential at an informal home wedding, but you may have two if you wish so. They will help balance things if you have a professional.

The bride must buy her bridegroom's ring and he must buy hers. The maid-of-honor may carry the bridegroom's ring or the bride may carry it herself. In the latter case, she may wear it on her wedding ring finger over her glove or on her little finger. Thus she will be sure to have it when the time comes for transferring it to his finger. When you make your arrangements, be sure to tell the clergyman that yours will be a double-ring wedding that he may let you know at what part of the ceremony the groom's ring should be put on the third finger of his left hand. This is usually done before the bride has received hers.

FORMING GOOD EATING HABITS

For several months I have been able to observe and eat with a child a bit over two. She is a delightful meal companion. Usually at each meal the mother, grandmother and I (the grandfathers) are present. Occasionally the baby 18 months old sits nearby looking on and playing with his toys, harnessed safely in his chair, sunken in the middle of a low square-topped table.

The older child sits in a high chair, advice by most experts to the contrary. At the beginning of the meal she climbs into the chair herself. She rises in the chair only after she has indicated that her meal is ended. The chair has a tray and a comfortable foot-rest. She sits on a level with the adults and can see about freely. She can feel herself a part of the family group to the degree she could not in a lower chair. She talks and is talked to during the meal, sometimes just chatting to herself, but not excessively. We have quite an atmosphere at meals, radio silent.

The child has a very good appetite and feeds herself well with her little fork and spoon. Nobody talks about her eating or the food, except occasionally some indiscreet guest not easily managed.

Method Successful

A few months ago this child always had her milk after she had eaten as much of other foods as she liked, and she would ask for a second or third cup of milk. More recently because she has requested less milk the milk has been given her first, with desirable results.

There have been times when she begged for a choice dessert but was told, "After you have finished that, with the result that she sometimes chose after a bit of mild complaining, to forfeit the dessert. Always at the next meal good dividends on this investment were realized.

However, we adults agreed in her absence that more caution should be exercised respecting the size of the helpings and that certain desirable foods which had lost their lustre should be omitted for several meals. The results were excellent. On one or two occasions, indeed, some of a certain food she dined over was partially removed and she was told she could have "that" after "this" was finished. Of course, this procedure has dangers, as you can well see and should rarely happen.

One Vegetable

Once I recall that when she had taken a morsel of a root-to-the-vegetable she said, "I don't like this," to which her mother nonchalantly replied, "Just spit it out," and she did. Several days later she began to eat a very small portion of this same kind of food with apparent enjoyment.

During these months I have never seen or heard this child express any irritation when upon asking if she might have a certain food not considered good for her she was told in a matter-of-fact way, "That is only for big people."

This happened with our own children when they were very young, the secret being that the procedure always was consistent and without any doubt to the child.

As you can see, I have been reassured that the advice in getting the child to enjoy proper food to which I have given from time to time in this column, and at length in my special bulletin on "Eating Problems: Their Prevention and Correction" (to be had in a stamped envelope sent to me at 235 East 45th Street, New York City), will work if all adults concerned will thoughtfully manage themselves.

Simplify Return Of War Veterans To Jobs

Byrnes May Stay In Government After All

Japanese Soldiers Are Easy To Influence

By HELEN ESSARY (Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—The first step in simplifying the return of jobs to war veterans in the cases of conscientious objectors has been taken by the Justice Department and Selective Service.

To hurry up the recovery of former jobs by former servicemen, it has been ruled that cases in dispute need not go to Washington first, but may be handled locally.

Hitherto, a cumbersome process was in effect whereby National Selective Service and the United States attorney general had to approve each case before the local United States attorneys could sue an employer for refusing to give a veteran his old job back.

Jap Lies Believed

There is plenty of evidence that the German soldier does not believe all the propaganda put out by his Nazi masters, but the Japanese fighting man doesn't conform in this respect. And that is one of the main reasons why American forces in the Pacific are finding the going tougher and tougher as they near Japan.

There is every indication that the Jap soldier believes the lies broadcast daily by the Tokyo radio. Japan never has admitted her serious fleet losses or the fact that many vital bases are cut off from the homeland. The Japanese troops are told that eventual victory is certain and that they should fight to the end.

Long after all Japanese air power was knocked out in the Marshalls, the isolated garrisons there continued to repair their airfields daily, apparently in the belief that Jap planes would come to their rescue.

And in the Peleliu group, enemy kamikaze fighters to the death when cornered.

Byrnes To Stay On

Despite public announcement by James F. Byrnes, the "Assistant President" that he will leave government service Nov. 14, when his term as assistant director of the Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion expires, one high-up agency official is convinced that "Jimmy" will stay on.

This informed source says that Byrnes needs only to be coaxed a little to be persuaded to retain his desk space in the White House. If Byrnes does stick to his decision to step out, Economic Stabilizer, Fred Vinson is viewed by many as the next best bet to take over the Byrnes post. Sources close to OPA Administrator Chester Bowles insist he does not want the job. He has been mentioned for it.

There was the coffee boiling over—all over the stove and half of it gone. I turned it off, wiped the mess up with the dish towel and wiped the stove with the towel. I was just about to go to bed when I heard a tremendous swishing noise.

Since I used only one spoon, one knife, one plate, one cup and no saucer, at least there wasn't much dish-washing to do. However, having had gone inside at least until it was time for cleaning the stove.

Slippery Rock Fire Suspects To Face Court

Enter Pleas When Arraigned Before Alderman Brice Thursday Afternoon

Following depredations that extended from July until they were apprehended by State Police and county authorities October 25, five persons pleaded guilty to various charges, including arson, sworn to by Lawrence County Detective C. D. Ross before Alderman J. C. Brice Thursday and today were in the county jail awaiting sentence court.

They were arrested for firing the Aiken and Hogue schools in Slippery Rock township, damaging the Black and Fairview schools, several burglaries in Shenango and Union townships, reported thefts here and investigations yet under way, may connect them with occurrences in West Virginia where the group fled after investigations got under way in Lawrence County October 2.

Those Held

The persons held to answer a charge of arson, a non-bailable crime, are: Howard K. Montgomery, 21, R. D. 4; Sherman Johns, 21, R.

D. 4; Mike Misco, 21, R. D. 4; John Marcus, 19, Mt. Jackson (formerly of McKeesport) and Mrs. Helen Plum, Shenango township. (The latter as an accessory).

All the foregoing, excepting Misco, were reportedly connected with the incendiary fire at the Aiken school, October 1. Mrs. Plum, alleged associate of the group, reportedly sat in an auto while the structure was fired authorities charges. She was the only person in the group not concerned in the Hogue school fire, October 2. She claims she was asleep in the auto when this action took place.

A chronology of their other confessed offenses follows, authorities announce:

Burglary of a garage owned by William and Harold Boughter, Shenango township, August 27; H. K. Montgomery and Mike Misco.

Damage to Black and Fairview schools, October 1; H. K. Montgomery and Sherman Johns.

Theft of auto tools from Charles Spayde, Slippery Rock township, July 8; H. K. Montgomery and Sherman Johns.

Theft of accessories from R. D. Walters garage, Union township, in July; H. K. Montgomery, Sherman Johns.

from Dutch mainland bases in the hands of Lieut. Gen. Sir Miles Christopher Dempsey's British Second Army, these messages were able to report establishment of a beachhead two miles deep in spite of savage German resistance.

The islands of Walcheren and Beveland have been a thorn in the side of Allied progress ever since the great offensive against Germany got under way this June. When the Nazi garrisons there are overcome, the whole campaign in western Europe is destined to undergo a decisive change.

Antwerp is Belgium's largest port. It is also the closest harbor of importance to Germany itself.

Its huge docks, cranes and unloading stations were captured virtually undamaged, for the Germans assigned to Antwerp's defense fled in haste to Tilburg and Breda, from which they now have been ejected, staking their whole gamble on creation of a defense line in northeastern Holland and leaving it up to the guns of Flushing to hold up the Allies.

In this the Nazis succeeded, for huge coastal batteries built originally by the Dutch and improved upon by the Germans have been able to control the Scheldt river estuary and prevent the flow of Allied reinforcements and supplies into Antwerp so essential to the planned outflanking of Adolf Hitler's west wall.

The three others were a General Scheckenburger, an army corps commander killed when the Soviets took Belgrade; Maj. Gen. Erich von Kirchback, killed on the western front; and Maj. Gen. Fritz Reinhardt, who died of wounds received on the western front.

JAPS ON LEYTE IN SUICIDE RUSH

Run Into U. S. Machine Gun Fire:
Many Yanks Are Suffering
From Intense Heat

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE SEVENTH DIVISION ON LEYTE ISLAND, Oct. 26—Fifty frantic Japs made the first banzai charge on southern Leyte in the bright moonlight last night, rushing across the end of Buri airfield only to be mowed down by our front line machine guns.

It was a typical frenzied suicide rush. The Japs—about 15 of whom escaped—plunged headlong into the line running over flat ground that offered no cover. They were armed only with potato masher grenades.

Major Charles Whitcomb, former insurance adjuster of Hollywood Cal., had his battalion ready for the attack. The major suffered but a single casualty last night and it wasn't certain that his man was killed during the banzai charge or during another small attack by a handful of snipers.

Heat Is Terrible

All other sectors of the division front were quiet during the night. The Japs have withdrawn again after making a one-day stand on Tuesday.

There was a little more opposition from snipers today but it was quiet enough for many of the front line troops to take advantage of an afternoon rain and to take much welcomed baths.

The heat continued to take its toll of these soldiers who had marched 14 miles in two days to take up their positions of yesterday. Despite salt tablets many men were overcome. Prostration has the same general effect as shock, and men are carried out on stretchers—their arms quaking and heads rolling.

The terrible heat knocks men out for one or two days.

Local Soldier Sees Cousin In India

S. Sgt. Merle L. Kelley, stationed in Burma, had a pleasant surprise recently when he met his cousin, Harold Stevenson, at a hospital in India. Sgt. Kelley was leaving the hospital where he had been confined with malaria fever for several weeks, while his cousin was entering the institution for a minor operation. Both boys enjoyed talking over old times they had had in the States.

Both are attached to the infantry. Sgt. Kelley, who is back on duty now, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kelley, of Robinson street. Harold Stevenson is the son of Mrs. Helen Ryhal, of Beaver.

WASHINGTON REPORT

war agencies is, as far as working newspapermen are concerned, Eliot Marple, former Boston newsman and currently head of the editorial branch of OPA's public relations department.

Marple, having been a member of the Fourth Estate himself, understands the problems of reporters covering the far-flung activities on the OPA front. He has been acclaimed time and again by reporters as the most helpful and dependable of all the many press relations men now handling the reams of releases streaming out of the war agencies.

Reporters got a chance recently to show their appreciation. When the head of another war agency, other than OPA, asked a group of them at a private meeting whom they could suggest to head up that agency's press branch, the newsmen plumped unanimously for the OPA information man.

'Rosey' Won't Play Role Of Ernie Pyle

"Rosey" Rowswell, noted baseball announcer and booster of the Pittsburgh Pirates, will not be playing the role of Ernie Pyle in the forthcoming screen version of Pyle's columns after all, Hollywood has announced.

Capt. Burgess Meredith, who was the original choice, will play the role, as he has just been placed on inactive status by the Army. While Meredith was unavailable, Rowswell, Walter Brennan, James Gleason, and Fred Astaire were all considered for the part.

CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WASHINGTON, D. C.

October 2, 1944.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

During the 76th, 77th and 78th Congresses I have served with Honorable Louis E. Graham on the Judiciary Committee of the House and have been closely associated with him. He is a most valuable and useful member of that committee. Not only is he an able lawyer but he is intellectually honest and energetic in his committee work. His advice is sought by his fellow members and his views carry a great deal of weight with both Democrats and Republicans.

The real work and drudgery in legislating is done in committee and a Member's fellow committeemen can best appraise his worth. I am sure that every Member of our committee will gladly confirm what I have said about Mr. Graham.

It now seems likely that we will have a Republican House next year. If I am fortunate enough to be re-elected, I will probably become Chairman of the Judiciary Committee as I am now the senior minority Member. When that responsibility comes to me, I will need the help and support of a man with Mr. Graham's capacity and I am counting on him to take a prominent part in our committee work.

He is noted for his faithful attendance at sessions of Congress and when he takes the floor he is persuasive because he is always fully acquainted with his subject and because he speaks clearly and convincingly without indulging in personalities or intemperate language.

Mr. Graham has made a host of friends in Congress on both sides of the aisle and enjoys their respect, as well as their high personal regard. I speak for many Members in expressing the earnest hope that he will be returned by the voters of the 25th Pennsylvania District.

Sincerely,

(Signed) C. E. Hancock

Educators Urge Military Training In Postwar Period

HARRISBURG, Oct. 27.—(INS)—Adoption of a resolution urging postwar compulsory military training was slated to highlight the closing sessions today of the Pennsylvania branch of the National Association of Secondary School Principals meeting at Harrisburg.

Deputy Attorney General David Perry told 400 delegates at the annual banquet last night "the post-war problems that confront this conference make it the most eventful conference they will ever attend."

He explained how Hitler used his educational system to train German youth in Fascism and predicted that by "teaching students to live democracy they would never have to die for it."

Clare B. Book, principal of the New Castle senior high school, is attending the Harrisburg conference.

Eastern Front Nazi Atrocities Not Exaggerated

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—(INS)—W. Averell Harriman, American ambassador to Moscow, who returned to Washington last week, said today that "the German atrocities on the eastern front have not been and cannot be exaggerated."

Harriman told a news conference he was not concerned so much with the numbers of persons suffering atrocities as with the character of those acts, which are outside any rules of war.

Nor was he concerned with the precise locality on the eastern front. The most widely publicized atrocities were those of the Maridenek forest near Lublin, Poland, where hundreds of thousands of Poles and refugees from neighboring countries were executed in a cold, methodical and wholesale manner.

With over 200 vacancies, the Methodist Conference in England is appealing for the release of some of the 102 candidates for the ministry now with the armed forces.

Soldiers Guests Of Nurses Aides

Hallowe'en Party Successfully Held At Catholic Center For Service Men

Service men from the Deshon Annex were guests of honor, Thursday evening at a hallowe'en party, planned by the Red Cross Nurses Aides of the New Castle Hospital, held at the Catholic Center, on South Beaver and North streets.

Activities got underway at 7:30 o'clock, with a get-acquainted grand march, with approximately 35 soldiers taking part. Gay hat favors and noise makers were distributed to the guests and nurses aides to add to the festive note. Fall decorations were used, and lighted pumpkins and skeletons accented the hallowe'en atmosphere.

Card playing and fortune telling were enjoyed during the early evening hours. Dancing was the main pastime later in the evening, the pleasing dance melodies being provided by a local popular orchestra.

During intermission, a delicious lunch was served buffet style by the committee in charge.

Members of the Red Cross Nurses Aides committee who attended as special guests were: Miss Elizabeth Breslin, executive secretary of the Lawrence County American Red Cross; Mrs. Harry Barkby, chairman of the Red Cross Nurses Aides committee; Mrs. C. N. Shellato, Mrs. William Hayford, Mrs. W. J. Hinkson, and Mrs. William Nelson.

The party proved a success due to the untiring work and cooperation of the following committee: Margaret O'Connell, Emma Evans, Rose Uhl, Charlotte Lucidore, Mrs. Helen Stone, Ruth Cialella, Mrs. Margaret Capezio and Jessie Jenkins.

Foreign Oil Men Study Ellwood Line

GROVE CITY, Oct. 27.—Pressure welding, a new method in pipe-line construction used by Anderson Brothers of Tulsa, Okla., in laying a gas line from a point near Hendersonville to Ellwood City, has attracted a number of oil men to Grove City, including two representatives of the British Oil Co., in Iraq, and a man from Australia, to study the method.

Using the new practice, the Anderson company has laid 36.2 miles of 12-inch gas line since September 13. The method involves heating the pipe to a white-heat, then pressing the joints together with hydraulic clamps.

On the local job the contractors employed 75 men, 15 tractors, three ditching machines, and a fleet of trucks. The work will be finished next week and equipment stored for the winter.

St. Vitus Sodality Masquerade Party

Annual Halloween Party Successfully Held Thursday Evening In Hall

Sodality of Our Lady of St. Vitus church held its annual masquerade party last evening in the basement of the church.

In the grand march the committee in charge picked out Carmelita DeLuca as having the prettiest costume; Antoinette Call as having the oddest; and Viola Toscano as having the funniest costume. The funniest character for the evening was the prefect of the sodality, Frances Corio, who also received a prize.

Theresa Penilli captured the door prize and won the apple ducking contest. The best polka dancers were Minnie Fulvi and Julie Terranova.

Dancing, miscellaneous games and community singing made the evening's enjoyment complete. Special selections were rendered by Marie Morella, who accompanied herself on her guitar and Rose Boazzo.

Sister Hildegarde and Sister Olga were special guests for part of the evening and were kept in suspense as to the identity of some of the girls.

The chairman for this social event was Edith DePoli who was surprised with a gift for her fine work in making the party a success. Assisting her from the social committee were Marie Morella, Clara Pegnato, Ann Boazzo, Helen and Louise DePoli and Anna Marchelletta.

Objectors-Prisoners Will Work Together

KANE, Pa., Oct. 27.—(INS)—Pennsylvania's first conscientious objectors camp, Red Bridge, near Kane, was officially closed today with the United States army taking over the establishment for Nazi war prisoners.

It was reported that veterans of the present war will be used as prison camp guards and war prisoners and conscientious objectors will both work on the wood cutting operations.

Harlansburg Pupils Pile Up 664 Pounds In Milkweed Drive

Challenging other county schools to beat their record, the pupils of the Harlansburg grade school announced that their contribution to the recently completed milkweed drive was 664 pounds of the dried pods.

Striking Employees To Return To Work

Striking employees of the Smith Dry Cleaning company will go back to work on Monday morning, October 30, after which mediation conferences between the management, the employees and Federal Conciliator Ashe will take place. The announcement was made today by Ray J. Myers, business agent for the Cleaners and Dyers Union Local 153.

Waiting lists for customers have been started by London dress houses who have suspended orders for a year through lack of employees.

An official of the Fire Control, U. S. Forest Service, predicted recently that advanced types of helicopters developed during the war will revolutionize fire-fighting methods. Helicopters can land in small openings in the forest, on small lakes or mountain peaks where it would be impossible for an airplane to land, and men and equipment can be brought within striking distance of the fire.

Jellies And Jams Complete Canning At Children's Home

Crowded fruit shelves and empty bushel baskets that once held apples testifying to the fact that the 1944 canning season at the Margaret Henry children's home is really finished, and that nothing remains now but the eating.

Dark jars of mincemeat are being reserved for Thanksgiving and Christmas pies, but the 100 equally-dark two-quart jars of thick apple butter are ready for service at any time, according to Mrs. Lida J. Green, matron of the home.

Backing up the apple butter are jars of clear orange-colored quince jelly and dark purple glasses of elderberry and grape. Tomato butter and jars of catsup fill up more space on the shelves around the room, which was already stocked with canned beans, cabbage, carrots, beets, tomatoes, and fruits before the jelly-making began.

"But," says Mrs. Green, looking at the large jars and the crowded room, "we certainly fell far short of our goal this year! We usually have much more."

Young Republicans To Hold Conference

The principal speaker of the evening will be Mrs. Clyde Corbin of Ashland, Ky., acting chairman of the National Federation of Young Republican Clubs.

The affair will be a dinner conference and is for the campaign committeemen of the Young Republicans.

Pittsburgh Woman Given Sentence

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 27.—(INS)—Mrs. Rose Casciotti, dark-haired intimate of Robert Gallagher, the ex-cab driver, who shot her in a quarrel over another man, today began an indeterminate sentence at the state industrial home for women at Muncy.

The 40-year-old wife of a Pittsburgh restaurant proprietor had pleaded guilty to illegal possession of the gun with which she was shot by Gallagher, 25, her "Great Lover," in an alley last April 25.

Shrieking "You can't do this to me! No, no, no!" Mrs. Casciotti struggled frantically and struck deputy sheriff Norma Roy on the shoulder as she was taken out of the court room after being sentenced.

Families Of First Christian Church
Attend Hallowe'en Social
Thursday Evening

Hallowe'en jamboree held Thursday evening at the First Christian church was a highly successful holiday social for young and old of families of the Bible school of the church. A crowd of 275 filled the large room downstairs in the church where Sunday school rooms had been turned into one and decorated in keeping with the season.

Corn shocks, pumpkins, ghosts and witches riding across the moon formed a setting for an evening of games and merriment. Comic movies for the children were shown by C. M. England.

Prizewinners for cleverest costumes among the boys and girls were: 1-6, Judy Ann Parks and Jackie Van Horn; 7-9, Elsie Eakin and Dick Johnson; 10-12, Bernice Smith and Louis Jenkins; 13-16, Nancy Johnson and Sammy Allen; 17 and older, Shirley Gilmore, John Reynolds and Frank Young.

Committee chairmen in charge were: decorations, Mr. and Mrs. John Reynolds; refreshments, Mrs. Roy Waite; entertainment, Carl Gilmore; publicity, Miss Martha Smythe.

Pvt. Maurice C. Hayes, formerly of New Castle and now of Ellwood City, was wounded in action in Belgium on October 10, according to a war department telegram received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Hayes, Orchard avenue, Ellwood City.

An infantryman, Pvt. Hayes has been overseas only since September, and was sent into action immediately. In a letter written three days after he was wounded, the soldier told his family that his feet and legs had been hit.

Pvt. Hayes is a cousin of Sgt. Donald Henry, Ellwood City, who was killed in England on September 25 by the propeller of an airplane.

The Cave of the Moounds, in Wisconsin, was discovered in 1939 when quarrying operations exposed it.

UTILITY GRADE BEEF IS DELICIOUS FOOD

When other meats are scarce or high in point value, try utility grade beef. It is point free and is available in many markets.

Utility grade beef has little or no fat but it is just as nutritious as the better grades of meat though it is not so tender. One way to make the meat tender is to score it as for cube steaks, or chop or grind the meat. Slow cooking in a small amount of liquid that will provide steam will help to make the less tender cuts more tender.

To give the meat a good flavor and have a delicious brown gravy, brown the meat in fat. If desired, the meat may be rolled in flour before browning. Simmer, do not boil, meat when cooking it on top of the stove. If cooking meat in the oven, cook it slowly until tender.

For delicious Swiss steak, have round steak cut one and a half to two inches thick. Roll the meat in flour seasoned with salt and pepper. Put drippings or other fat in a heavy skillet and brown the meat on all sides. Add one cup of canned tomatoes and cover tightly. Let simmer on top of the stove or cook in a slow oven, 300 degrees Fahrenheit, until tender. It will take about three hours for a three-pound steak to cook tender. One hour before the meat is done, put a layer of sliced raw onions on top of the steak. If the liquid cooks away, add more tomatoes or hot water.

SANDWICH SUGGESTIONS

When making fillings for sandwiches to put in the school lunch box, have the fillings fairly moist. Spreading both slices of bread with butter will prevent the filling from soaking in the bread.

Chop, shred, or slice the food so the filling is easy to eat and handle in the sandwich. Fillings may be made ahead of time and kept covered and cold until ready to spread on the bread. Be sure to have the butter and the filling come to the edges and corners of the slices of bread so the crusts are tasty and children will eat them. Wrap each sandwich in waxed paper or put in a sandwich bag to prevent it from drying and the flavors from mixing with other foods in the lunch box.

HOME BUILT DEVICES SAVE WORK

P. B. Rodgers and Son, Walter, of Plain Grove, built an elevator which saves them a large amount of hard work during corn picking. This elevator, twenty-four feet long, puts ear corn in the crib with a minimum of labor.

The Rodgers' use a corn picker, and when the wagon-box is full, back the wagon to the lower end of the elevator. Power is supplied by the power take-off from the tractor through a simple connection. The load of corn is placed in the crib in about five minutes, with a minimum of labor necessary.

Plans for the construction of elevators of this type, as well as for handling bulk grain, may be obtained from the Agricultural Extension Office, New Castle.

Bankers of Argentina have asked the government for reforms in their working conditions and the extension of social security benefits.

Babson Discusses Subject Of Inflation

By ROGER W. BABSON
Copyright—1944—Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.

BABSON PARK, Mass., Oct. 27.—

Those who follow the market closely know that the insurance stocks are about the only group that has not gone up in price during the past six months. The industrial stocks are strong based upon postwar prospects; the railroads are strong based upon huge temporary earnings; the public utilities are strong based upon the fact that they will be elected; while other groups are more or less following the lead with the exception of the insurance stocks. These have been dull since the Supreme Court decision of a few months ago. His decision may not hurt the larger direct writing fire companies nor the well-operated re-insurance companies, but it could knock the present agency system galley-west. Up to the present time, the insurance agents of most states have controlled the insurance business. Their honeymoon is apparently over.

Different Kinds of Insurance Compared
All kinds of insurance companies are more or less fearful of government interference in this country. In foreign countries the insurance industry has been one of the first to be taken over by the socialistic governments. So many people are affected by insurance that it has been a popular industry for politicians to seek lower rates. Some economists claim that the cost of selling insurance could materially be reduced under government ownership.

In the case of fire companies, this might be done by adding the insurance premium to the tax bill, based upon the amount that the property is assessed. In the case of accident insurance, the premium could be deducted from the wage envelope; while life insurance will come more and more under social security. Personally, I believe that these changes may come some day but need not be taken seriously at this time. Besides, there always will be an opportunity for private companies to sell "excess insurance"—excess fire, burglar, accident, life and certainly casualty.

Insurance and Inflation
It is not Supreme Court decisions or government operations which I fear—but rather inflation. Inflation could materially hurt life insurance companies. It is true that they pay out the same dollars that they take in, but they have contracted to make these payments based upon certain operating expenses. In the case of non-participating insurance companies, these operating expenses could gradually increase, due to inflation, without the direct writing companies having any means of increasing their income.

When a life insurance company took a contract 40 years ago on a young man at 20 years of age the company assumed that conditions would remain the same until the man finally died. Up to the present time, better health methods have been reducing death rates. These have offset, temporarily, the increased expenses and decreased interest rates. If inflation does not come and interest rates soon again increase, these life insurance companies have little to fear; but otherwise, look out.

Fire Company Stocks Best
Fire insurance companies are not subject to these handicaps as their rates can be re-adjusted every one, three or five years according to the length of the outstanding policies. This is also true of most accident and health policies. Frankly, I prefer the stocks of good fire and accident insurance companies to those of life companies and health companies. Some other week I will discuss casualty companies; but this is a subject by itself.

The cloud over the fire insurance companies at the present time is the very heavy fire losses. These are running today greater than they have been for years. Coupled with these losses are the unjustified cuts in rates by the insurance departments of certain states. These rates should be raised instead of lowered. The increased fire losses are due to "poor housekeeping, untrained employees and the inability of fire chiefs to get the needed equipment". Therefore, next week I shall say a word to your city fathers as to the immediate need for installing more fire alarms, buying more fire equipment and making their departments more efficient just as soon as possible before the big inflation comes around 1950.

High Octane Gas For Postwar Era

Petroleum Expert Says Oil Company Prepared To Meet High Pressure Demands

Gasoline of the postwar period will be refined to the power point the automobiles demand, Robert Whitely, well known petroleum expert of Pittsburgh, told 125 Society-Vacuum dealers of Lawrence, Butler and Mercer counties gathered in The Castleton hotel for a dinner conference Thursday night.

Mr. Whitely, the assistant general sales manager for the company in Pittsburgh district, said 100 octane or 130 octane gas were easily possible, following the amazing discoveries of the research men during the war. Mr. Whitely was the principal speaker on a program that was most interesting.

James Evans, local representative for the company, opened the meeting following the dinner and introduced L. P. Tyler, general sales manager, as the toastmaster. Mr. Tyler welcomed the guests and introduced L. D. Dorworth, retail manager, who spoke on postwar merchandising plans. Mrs. Emma Naser of Butler recited an original poem. William A. Francis of New Castle amused the crowd with some witty stories and Carl Glasser of Butler closed with a few remarks. A motion picture "Johnny Comes Marching Home" was presented by Major H. B. Cummins, area manager of the company.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—(INS)—Mrs. Nancy Archibald Rogers, socially prominent third wife of Cameron Rogers, author of "Flight Surgeon" and the screen hit "Dive Bomber," died early today following a plunge from the third floor of their home in northwest Washington.

Police said Mrs. Rogers, 30, broke from the arms of her husband despite efforts to restrain her and plunged to a concrete areaway below. They said the couple had been quarreling.

Mrs. Rogers is the granddaughter of Mrs. Everett Allen Archibald of New York City. Since his third marriage in 1942, Rogers has been employed as a special writer in the Office of Coordinator of Inter-American Affairs.

Japs Admit At Least Six Ships Sunk

(International News Service)
The Japanese admitted officially today that at least six Nipponese warships had been sunk in the great air-sea engagement in Philippines water and that another two had been "substantially damaged". Among the vessels lost, an imperial headquarters communications acknowledged, were an aircraft carrier, one battleship, two cruisers and two destroyers.
Another carrier and a second battleship were listed as the vessels substantially damaged.
The broadcast communication was issued at 1:30 p. m. Tokyo time (3:30 a. m. EWT) and recorded by the FCC.
The communiqué purportedly cited the "composite results" of the action "from Oct. 24 to Oct. 26".
It was claimed that 17 American ships had been sunk and 10 damaged in this period. The new total marked a sharp reduction from previous claims made by the Japanese. Only a few hours before issuance of the communiqué the Tokyo radio listed claims of new successes against American warships and other vessels, bringing the grand total to 84 United States ships and other craft sunk or damaged.

THEY GOT THEIR MEN

While the average state policeman would tell you that the cleanup of the gang that burned two school houses in Slippery Rock township was just another piece of business, the fact remains it was one of the finest exhibitions of police work ever seen in this county.

The state police started to work on it immediately after the first occurred. No statements, no conjectures made public, just old fashioned hard work and when the case was cleaned up and confessions signed, the announcement was made. It proves again that the Pennsylvania State Police is among the best, possibly the best police organization in the country.

SOVIET DEMAND IS NOT ALTERED ON POLISH ISSUE

By LEON PEARSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—It was acknowledged in diplomatic circles today that the Churchill-Stalin conference in Moscow has not altered the Soviet demand for eastern Poland, and that the United States government will be obliged to recognize the Curzon line as the eastern boundary of Poland.

While no commitment has been made by this government, it was agreed that the position of Stalin on this question is so unalterable that negotiation is impossible.

The formula of settlement is expected to follow this course:

First, an agreement is to be reached between the Polish government in London and the Soviet-sponsored Polish government in Lublin.

Second, when these two factions have come together to form a united government, it will be recognized by the Soviet government. Relations between Moscow and the Polish government in exile have been broken since early 1943.

Third, negotiations will be undertaken between this united Polish government and the Soviet's on the boundary question. At that time, eastern Poland, which the Soviets regard as traditionally Russian territory, will be demanded as "Russian" and "Ukrainian" for final settlement.

Such an agreement will receive the passive approval of the state department, it was explained, on the basis of its being a bi-lateral rather than a uni-lateral territorial adjustment.

Young Dodge's bride is the former Margery B. Gehman, 20, former Buffalo, N. Y., artist, airplane plant worker and daughter of a college professor. Major Dodge originally had objected to his son marrying her on the ground he opposed "war-time marriages," but later relented.

Third Party Movement Is Near Collapse

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
U. S. Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Collapse of the third party movement as a factor in the November 7 election was emphasized today by political observers in a listing of congressional candidates by House
Clerk Scott Trimble.

For the first time in years there appeared to be almost no possibility of enough third party candidates being elected to the House to control the balance of power.

Merging of third party units in Minnesota and New York with the Democratic party, together with dissolution of the Communist party, may also result in a much lower third party vote for president.

Despite fights in both Democratic and Republican parties over many issues, the lines were drawn in "clear-cut fashion between President Roosevelt and Gov. Thomas
E. Dewey.

Third Party Vote Drops
In 1936 there were one million
400 thousand votes cast for presidential candidates outside the Democratic and Republican parties, while in 1940 the total dropped to less than 275,000.

Bulk of the vote this year is certain to go to the major parties, while the total minor party vote depends on the appeal of Socialist,
Prohibition and Socialist-Labor candidates.

In New York there are 35 congressional districts in which the Democratic and American-Labor parties have endorsed the same candidate, Rep. Vito Marcantonio, now listed as the sole American-

Labor party member in the House, won the nomination of the Democratic, Republican and American-
Labor parties.

The Democratic-American-Labor merger failed, however, in three congressional districts, while in one the opposition to the Republican candidate is the American Labor party alone.

Engineered By Wallace
Minnesota, which was long a hot-bed of the third party movement, is restricted to two parties this year as a result of the merger of the Democratic and Farmer-Labor parties, said to have been engineered by Vice-president Henry A. Wallace.

Rep. Joseph P. O'Hara, elected two years ago as a Farmer-Laborite, cast off the designation and is running as a Republican in the Second Minnesota district.

The Progressive Party, led by Sen. Robert M. LaFollette, has nominated Rep. Harry Sauthoff for the Senate and is seeking five congressional posts. The movement is regarded as less formidable than in 1940 when Sen. LaFollette, the lone progressive in the Senate, won re-election.

The American Democratic national committee, organized by anti-New Deal Democrats, is in the field but its leaders have testified that they are bound to support no one candidate.

Independent electoral candidates are running on an anti-New Deal platform in Texas, while South Carolina also has an independent ticket. The dissident Democrats in the South, however, have thus far avoided formation of a third party.

Pittsburgh Firm Presents Low Bid
HARRISBURG, Oct. 27.—(INS)—
The State Highways department announced today the posting of an unofficial low bid of $746,781.10 from the Booth and Flinn company, Pittsburgh, for the construction of 2.26 mile of concrete highway on traffic Route 38 between Leedsdale and Ambridge.

The department said the project will include the construction of a concrete arch over Sewickley creek.

THREE LOCAL GIRLS REPORTED MISSING
Three local girls are missing, according to Chief of Police Robert D. Hanna who has requested the cooperation of State Police throughout the state to search for them.
They were reported by parents as

"BUT A SINGLE HEARTBEAT SEPARATES THE VICE-PRESIDENT FROM THE PRESIDENCY OF THIS COUNTRY"...

declared California's Governor Earl Warren in his speech at Columbus, Ohio, October 4, 1944

MAY BE PRESIDENT?

How important is the VICE PRESIDENT of the United States? He is the SECOND most important man in the United States because he is the man that may become President at any SECOND.

Yes, only a single heartbeat stands between the VICE PRESIDENT and the highest office on earth—THE PRESIDENCY OF THE UNITED STATES.

Under Roosevelt, we have HARRY TRUMAN: Who is Harry Truman? Why, he's the man who was "made" a Senator by Boss Pendergast, the Kansas City (Missouri) convicted political boss who was recently released from the Federal penitentiary at Leavenworth.

Truman was the choice of the bosses at the "CLEAR EVERYTHING WITH SIDNEY" Democratic Convention in Chicago—he was the choice of Hannegan, Hague, Hillman—and Browder, the Communist.

Contrast Roosevelt and Truman with the strong, vigorous, successful administrators chosen by the Republican Convention—GOVERNOR THOMAS E. DEWEY and GOVERNOR JOHN W. BRICKER.

Corrupt "Boss" Tom Pendergast of Kansas City, Mo., told a newspaperman "that he could name his 'office boy' to the U. S. Senate." Harry S. Truman (above), whose political career started under the Pendergast reign, today is a member of the U. S. Senate and the New Deal candidate for the vice-presidency. Pendergast's portrait hangs on the wall.

Mediation of the difficulties between the iron workers and the millwrights will be had shortly, it is announced.

The iron workers struck on Friday, October 21, over the jurisdictional question of whether they or the millwrights should erect steel girders. The question was referred to the American Federation Board of Awards and this body awarded the work to the millwrights. The iron workers then struck.

ERIE, Oct. 27.—(INS)—Bishop Mark Gannon, of the Erie diocese, today held one of the highest distinctions of the Catholic church in being designated by Pope Pius XII as "assistant to the pontifical throne with title of count."

The high honor was announced by Apostolic Delegate Amleto Cicognani in an address to 500 members of the clergy during the dedication yesterday of Cathedral Center.

Archbishop Cicognani said the appointment was made "as a mark of His Holiness' esteem and appreciation for Bishop Gannon's labors in the Erie diocese."

It is not definitely proved that the apple was "the forbidden fruit" in the Garden of Eden. The Bible speaks only of the "fruit of the tree."

The father of a family of eight told in Bewdley, England, court that to get into bed they had to climb onto a box, then onto a table and finally through a hole in the ceiling.

The name Arctic is from the Greek arctos, a bear, the reference being to the northern constellation of the Great Bear. An-arctic means "opposed to Arctic."

That Older Man's Look

Most older or middle age men don't realize that an "oldish look" is generally a matter of clothes.

The shirt collar and the hat have a lot to do with it.

And the right kind of suit can take 10 or 15 years off a man's appearance.

The famous House of Worsted-tex knows the designing trick of making more youthful clothes that are still simple and dignified.

Favor Pavot As 'Horse Of Year'

Pavot, Not Winner Of November 1 Pimlico Race Deserves Title

HAS WON ALL HIS EIGHT STARTS EASILY

By PAT ROBINSON
(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—There is a big controversy raging over the "Horse of the Year" and the experts are saying now that Pimlico Special to be run November 1 will decide the issue.

This race will bring together the aged campaigners Bolingbroke and Devil Diver and the good three year old Twilight Tear and some of the experts have sold themselves on the idea that one of these must be the champion of the turf.

Why? Bolingbroke and Devil Diver have beaten each other and both have been soundly trounced by ordinary nags. Twilight Tear has been licked twice by two dollar horses. Is that the measure of a champion?

The usual excuses have been made for them—an off track, too much weight, a poor ride, etc. But it seems to us that champions don't need excuses.

What About Pavot?
Nobody had to make any excuses or hunt around for alibis for Pavot. Good tracks or bad were all alike to him and the jockey had only to sit still and let Pavot do the rest.

Moreover, he conceded chunks of weight even in the Futurity and not only won that historic classic but came from far back to win off by himself.

On top of all that he ran the race under a tremendous handicap. As the horses broke from the starting gate a flying hoof of one of the other horses slashed his leg and the wound bled freely throughout the running. If that victory didn't bear the stamp of a champion, we would not know what is required to make a champion.

Likes His Chances
Still, we are not going to get unduly excited no matter who the experts pick as champion. For our part we'd feel much safer placing a few frogskins on Pavot than we would on any other horse now racing and until he's beaten we're going to make him the top horse in our book.

Pavot won't run again until next spring but if nothing happens to him you'll find him the favorite among the field in the Kentucky Derby next year and the chances are you will find many of the experts still underlining him.

Baker, who is in his ninth season in the National League, has been a standout in the Steelers' forward wall all season.

The Pittsburgh-Chicago combine will stage its final drill at Forbes Field tonight and will head for Washington at noon tomorrow.

New Castle Sailors In Huge Navy Choir

Two New Castle men are members of the thousand-voice choir which broadcasted a special Navy Day program over a coast-to-coast network today from 1:30 to 1:45 this afternoon from the naval training center, Great Lakes, Ill.

Alfred John Lepich, 703 Harbor street, and E. Clayton Crammer, 112 North Vine street, are now recruits at the training center. The choir of which they are members includes men of all creeds and nationalities, and recalls the huge thousand-piece band of C. Lieut. Com. John Phillip Sousa which paraded at Great Lakes during the first World War.

FRANKLIN HIGH TRIPS CAMPBELL

Scoring in the first and fourth periods on short runs of 10 and 12 yards a somewhat crippled Franklin high team defeated Campbell Junior high at the stadium Thursday afternoon 14 to 0.

John Calabria, the Franklin quarterback ran his own right end from the Campbell 10 for the first score, and Jimmy Damaskon from the 12 yard line, scored the second touchdown in the fourth period, after Franklin had marched 92 yards when Joe Dado intercepted a pass on the Franklin 8-yard line.

Williams-Morell Shine
Jasper Williams and Ralph Morell played a great defensive game on the line, the former having recovered from the injuries received in the recent game at Ellwood. Franklin had 8 first downs and Campbell had 3. Campbell's only drive was in the last period when they drove to the Franklin 10, but lost the ball on a pass. Franklin.

Business Shows Little Change

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 27.—(INS)—Business in the Pittsburgh district showed little change last week, the bureau of business research, University of Pittsburgh, announced today.

On a seasonally adjusted basis, there is a slight decline in industrial production, but the drop was about offset by the small gain in shipments. The bureau's seasonally adjusted index of business last week stood at 174.5 per cent of the 1933-39 average, the research said.

Steel mill operations in the district declined a little, no change was reported in the number of active blast furnaces and bituminous coal production declined moderately, the decreases being counter to the usual seasonal pattern, the bureau reported.

they'll play Idaho bowl in the celery bowl. The only bowl that's not yet been used for a football game is a "Flowing Bowl" but many a game has been discussed around it.

Reports to FDR

AVERELL HARRIMAN, U.S. ambassador to the Soviet Union, is shown as he arrived at the White House for consultations with President Roosevelt after attending the 10-day conference with Premier Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill at Moscow. Harriman's trip from Moscow to Washington was made in 57 hours. (International)

HARRISBURG—Cuts and bruises were the only injuries suffered by Darrah Oves, city road roller operator, when the brakes on his 10-ton machine failed to hold while traveling down a steep hill and the vehicle sped through a busy intersection and overturned.

CHESTER—Providence road outside of Chester got an "unscheduled" resurfacing job recently when a truck loaded with tar and surfacing materials overturned, spilling the sticky substance over the highway.

NORRISTOWN—Dressed in women's clothing, William Smith was fined $5.50 after police were unable to find the "women's stag party" he said he was going to.

JOHNSTOWN—Police court fines were on the upward trend in Johnstown. Collections for the first nine months of 1944 totaled $17,630 compared with $11,309 for the same period last year.

LOCK HAVEN—Miss Gloria Anne Haggerty, 20, who recently passed her state bar examinations, was believed to be the youngest woman lawyer in Pennsylvania. She was graduated from Dickinson school of law and served her apprenticeship in her father's law office.

MECHANICSBURG—The U. S. naval supply depot diverted from the traditional goat mascot in selecting a representative pet. The animal chosen was "Scuttlebutt," the dog owned by the skipper, Capt. C. H. Vanpatten.

HECKERSVILLE—Who's superstitious? Not Helen Grace, 13th child of her family, who celebrated her 13th birthday Friday, October 13 with a party attended by 13 guests.

PITTSBURGH—"The ideas children get in the next five years will determine when we will have the next war," Economist Carleton Smith told Allegheny county teachers at a meeting at Pittsburgh.

GLASSPORT—"V-E Day" will probably call for celebrations and time off, but employees of the Copperwell Steel Company have been assured by Vice-President W. J. McIlvaine that they will get double time pay by working on the day Germany quits.

BROWNSVILLE—"Women Nazis are the worst," said Sigrid Schultz, famous foreign correspondent, in speaking of the feminine members of the Nazi party. "Germany will try it again," she predicted.

CHESTER—There was a slight increase in petty crimes in Chester during the first nine months of this year, but police were not called upon to solve a single murder or manslaughter case.

"ONLY DOING 40" TRENTON, N. J.—(INS)—A driver involved in an accident when a tire blew out declared he was traveling only 40 miles an hour. His car left the road, sped 121 feet, climbed on a shoulder, veered 50 feet across a lawn, struck two trees 41 feet apart and then skidded 39 feet into a house. The motorist sustained minor head injuries. "Good thing you weren't going 60 miles an hour," a judge wisecracked, fining the driver $15 and costs.
